

KLOVE is the best Christian music show out there. They provide a model of what a Christian radio show should be. It is uplifting and encouraging. They provide prayer support, free advertising for local faith related events, clean, commercial free programming with more music than any other station I've listened to. The message they have for the local area is needed very much. My teenagers won't listen to anything else. They are influenced by the moral messages that are in the songs and the personalities of the people who are on the programming. One of the best things about KLOVE is that I can be listening to a great song here in Greensboro and I know that my sister in Oklahoma is listening to the same song and that gives me a great feeling of connectedness. She lives two days away but we still meet through the songs on the radio. The prayer ministry that KLOVE provides has impacted the area in lots of ways. Not least being that when a person won't set foot in a church they still have a place to go to receive God's word and the support and encouragement that we all need in hard times. With no religious affiliation required it frees up the person to choose for themselves.

If we lost our KLOVE station there would be nothing on the airwaves that would provide the music and support that they do. My children would lose the most positive influence in their lives outside of our church and home. They are teenagers who are just reaching out to other people and learning that rejection and disappointment can be a daily thing. KLOVE and the music have really touched them and helped them stay positive in such a negative world. Save our KLOVE!!
